

The Stauffer Awards

The Stauffer Awards commemorate the work of Dr Herbert M. Stauffer, who made contributions to the field of radiology and established the Radiology-Physiology Laboratory at Temple University in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Papers published in Academic Radiology are eligible for the awards and will be judged for excellence by panels in each of the categories below. An inscribed plaque and $1,500 honorarium will be given to the authors of the most outstanding paper in each category.

Academic Radiology is the official journal of the Association of University Radiologists, the Society of Chairmen of Academic Radiology Departments, the Association of Program Directors in Radiology, and the American Association of Academic Chief Residents in Radiology. General instructions to contributors are available in each issue as "Guidelines for Authors," or write to • • • Academic Radiology

Papers published in Academic Radiology during 1998 are eligible for the Stauffer Awards.
