FROM LAST MONTH'S ISSUE...

It has been pointed out to us that a recent article in the Bulletin ('Slavenburg Arrests', p 9, November 1983) may have inadvertently given readers the impression that the alleged fraud arose out of a defect in the Swiss telecommunications computerized system supplied by Arbat. We are happy to confirm that this was not our intention and that the system in no way contributed to the alleged fraud. In fact we have been informed that the Arbat system has been installed by over 100 institutions who have expressed their satisfaction with it, particularly in its security aspects.
